5 New York City Hotels with Unreal Concierge Services

Lotte New York Palace

Inside the well-known Lotte New York Palace is a separate hotel-within-a-hotel concept called The Towers, which is located on the top 14 floors. Guests that check in here have access to Rarities, a private bar with only 25 seats and the choice of a tableside sommelier. For those staying in the 5,000-square-foot room known as the Jewel Suite by Martin Katz, it gets even better. The suite alone goes for $25,000 per night but guests receive a diamond microband ring—designed by Katz himself—as a take-home gift. 455 Madison Ave.

Mandarin Oriental New York

Practically every aspect of your stay at the opulent Mandarin Oriental New York can be customized. After checking into your suite, you can relax with a meditation program designed by the spa team or take part in the “Beside Reading Program” that was curated by fashion designer Joseph Altuzarra. But if a cocktail is in order, there’s a special drink designed with your suite’s theme in mind. All you have to do is make your way downstairs to the MObar and sip your complimentary cocktail as you take in the breathtaking views. 80 Columbus Cir.

Trump SoHo

It's all about the personalized VIP service for guests of the Trump SoHo with the hotel's Trump Attaché program. Everything from having a personal dog walker to meeting a New York Giants football player are just some of the requests the hotel fulfills. Even children get special treatment through the Young Entrepreneurs SoHo (Y.E.S.) program, where personalized business cards and room amenities (think milk and cookies) are offered. 246 Spring St.

Ritz-Carlton New York, Central Park

As a VIP guest of the elegant Ritz-Carlton Central Park, a personal butler service is available to unpack your bags and a chef could even design an exclusive five-course menu to be served inside your suite. If you're a shopper who can't deal with all the traffic of Fifth Avenue just steps away, the concierge can pull strings to set up showroom appointments. For those who are more interested in outdoor activities, Central Park is across the street and the hotel can arrange for customized tours, help plan wedding proposals, or event set you up for a picnic. 50 Central Park S.

Knickerbocker Hotel

One of the most historic hotels in New York is also home to the classic martini (it originated here, according to some sources). There's even a Martini Cart that's part of a monthly martini class for guests. The customized cart also makes surprise stops between 4-6 p.m. in guests' rooms as part of a "surprise-and-delight" amenity. 6 Times Sq.
